

GOLDEN RETRIEVER
RESCUE OF MID-FLORIDA™

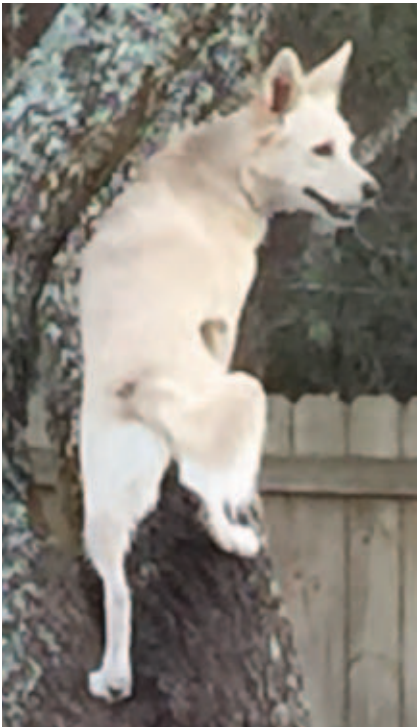

TALES OF GOLD

With 2018 coming to a close, we want to thank our volunteers who worked so hard on behalf of our rescues and our donors who play a critical role in making our mission to save and rehome goldens/golden blends possible. It has been a very busy year for GRRMF with just over 100 dogs coming into our program, each with a unique story and many needing medical attention. At this time of year, we have two goals – to build our medical fund for 2019 and to fulfill the Wish List of our available dogs asking Santa to find their forever home. We encourage you to visit our website at www.grrmf.org and learn more about our organization and the different ways your generosity directly benefits our rescues.

RIISING TO NEW HEIGHTS

Oakley began her life as an outside farm dog when she was just a small pup but when the building of a home was delayed and coyotes were spotted around the farm, her owners were concerned for her safety and contacted GRRMF. When Oakley arrived in foster care it was apparent that she felt more comfortable outdoors than inside the home. She was not housebroken, had received no training, and living on her own made her very independent and self-sufficient.

"Oakley was very energetic", reports mom Lorida, "and frequent long walks were helpful in lowering her energy level and allowing her to explore her surroundings. I didn't realize how fitting the name 'Oakley' was until I watched her easily climb the oak trees in our backyard, reaching heights of over 12 feet, plus her agility allows her to turn around and run back down the tree. She quickly assimilated into the household pack with her fur siblings, Ginger and Tugger, and regularly attends daycare for extra playtime."

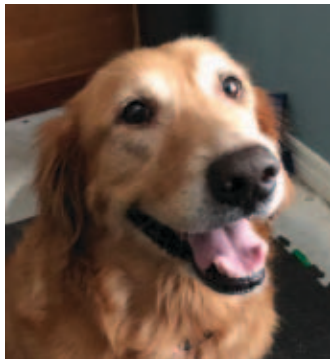

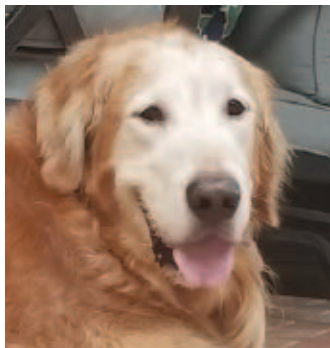

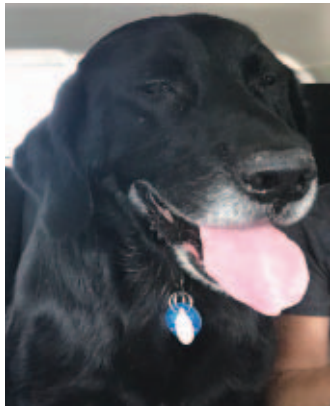

"Very soon after adopting Oakley, we were completing one of our early morning walks when a woman in distress flagged us down on the sidewalk. She felt she was about to have a seizure and didn't have a phone to call for help. While assisting her to the ground and dialing 911, Oakley's behavior in the next few moments amazed me. Oakley sat right next to the woman attentively and at times lightly licked her arm while protectively watching her movements. The paramedics and a fire truck responded with sirens blaring but Oakley remained calm and the loud sounds did not deter her from her protective stance. Oakley observed the situation and her natural aptitude and empathy for helping people just happened."

As a Certified dog/handler team with ATD and a member of PAWS Therapy Dogs of Lake County, Oakley made a three-hour bus trip earlier this year to comfort those affected by the horrific shooting at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School. Many children and adults sought comfort in hugging Oakley that day. She seems to have an innate intelligence and empathy that is appropriate in any given situation and always approaches everyone with a smiling face and wagging tail.

REWARD FOR THE MOST WANTED by Ellen Steiger

Have you seen the Most Wanted by GRRMF? They are "The Sweet Six" - not notorious fugitives, but six sweet dogs who were abandoned when their owner passed away. They became the Most Wanted when our team received a call about two goldens needing help. Come to find out, there were four more dogs that were part of this family and about to be euthanized - GRRMF wanted all six! All six were taken to be medically examined, treated and placed with loving foster families until they would be ready for adoption.

GRRMF leaves no dog behind and stands behind their mission statement to save, protect and rehome golden retrievers and golden retriever blends that have lost their home and family. Their medical needs are numerous, the journey will take time, but worth the cost to ensure these sweet dogs have a new beginning.

Sadly, we lost one of our Sweet Six, Brownie. Despite the medical attention and the loving hearts and hands that worked to heal Brownie, this sweet boy wasn't strong enough to survive his many health issues. Now our Sweet Six are the Fabulous Five.

Meet the Most Wanted sweeties who need your generous donations to get well. Top to bottom they are:

Goldie, (alias, Miss Manners), female Golden Retriever. Goldie is wonderful with all animals, listens well and knows her manners. Currently in Healing Hearts being treated for ear/skin infections and recently had a successful knee surgery.

Wolfe, (alias, Chow Down), male, Goldador. Fun, young at heart, guy who loves a good meal. Thanks to our great team of volunteers, veterinarian partners and supporters, Wolfe is now available for adoption. Previously in Healing Hearts with kennel cough, ear/skin infections.

Thunder, (alias, Daddy Boy), male, Golden Retriever. Daddy to the remaining four of our Sweet Six. A friendly boy who loves snuggling on the couch. Currently in Healing Hearts being treated for ear/skin infections and benign masses were removed from his neck.

Pumpkin, (alias, Pumpkin Patch), male, Goldador. Currently in Healing Hearts being treated for ear/eye infections as well as open sores on his body. He was nicknamed "Pumpkin Patch" due to some fur missing from his sores. Once this lovable boy is feeling better, he will be the best pumpkin in the patch!

Bear, (alias, Teddy Bear), male, Goldador. A mature, calm boy that loves his walks and grooming sessions. With the loving care of volunteers, veterinarian partners and supporters, this cuddly teddy bear is now available for adoption. Previously in Healing Hearts with ear/skin infections.

What is the REWARD for wanting to help these dogs and so many like them? The reward is seeing these loving creatures get a second chance at life and finding them a loving forever home. The number of dogs that need medical attention has increased. We need your help to replenish funds to get the Fabulous Five and all the golden dogs we rescue to their new beginnings. Thank you for all you do!

The Fabulous Five

SPECIAL HEARTS FOR SPECIAL NEEDS by Lyn Holliday

Caring for a special needs dog requires effective human and canine communication. It takes a remarkable heart filled with strength, love and courage to help a special needs GRRMF dog to be all they can be! One of those exceptional hearts can be found within volunteer Stacy Klemetti, who truly has a natural instinct for the needs of our special dogs.

Less than two years ago, Stacy and her Newfoundland Barnabas, were preparing for when their beloved golden blend, Max, would cross the Rainbow Bridge. Stacy had paved a way for Max to meet his challenges; with eleven years of loving care and his own special wheelchair, Max lived life as a champion! In her search for another golden, she found GRRMF and knew it was time to be part of something bigger than she and Barnabas! Stacy had no idea it would be Suzie Monica, a sweet girl seeking a sanctuary of love and patience, followed by Ivan Fred and then Maha Ocoee who came in heart-worm positive and was adopted by Stacey and Barnabas.

It was no surprise when the Sweet Six arrived that a natural fit for one of the most special boys was Stacy. Brownie, a chocolate retriever blend, didn't realize his medical challenges – he was just happy to be the best he could be. Born with one eye and a spinal malformation, he never missed a walk with his foster siblings. Brownie crossed the rainbow bridge surrounded by love and too early to experience all the dreams Stacy held in her heart for him – weekend adventures, trail walks, dog beaches, and activities to keep him mentally and physically stimulated.

Stacy shared - "I want to give these special dogs the very best of what I can offer, as they give so freely of themselves to us. If you feel a 'pull' to help in some way, don't ignore it. Review the Volunteer tab on GRRMF's website to see the countless ways you can assist. Trust me, your heart will be brimming over with love, knowing you are helping these dogs in some capacity!"

THE POWER OF A NOSE by Katie Obringer, CPDT, CNWI Certified training Tampa Bay and Central Florida areas

Physical exercise and mental stimulation are very important parts of a canine's life for both senior and not so senior dogs. You can teach an old dog new tricks. Training, food puzzles, games, and nose work can be started at any age. There is a Trick Dog Title through the AKC that includes tricks such as Sit, Fetch-it, Jump, and many more. Another way to have fun with your dog is the sport of K9 Nose Work®. Dogs use their natural scenting ability to search for food or toys in the environment and eventually search for special target odors. This can be done for fun and for competition.

Nose work and food puzzles are a nice way of engaging your dog mentally. You can purchase puzzles or create your own by placing toilet paper rolls in a shoebox with food at the bottom. Your dog will have to find the best way to get to the food or treats placed inside. You can also place their food around the kitchen in small piles so they can search for their dinner. When providing food puzzles, chews, or nose work, keep in mind that these are best done with dogs individually.

Build on the bond and communication you already have with your dog by teaching the desired behavior and then reinforcing with a treat or a toy. When practicing to sit, take a treat in your hand, take your hand from their nose and move it upwards. When the dog sits they receive the treat. Outside use your hand signal for sit, and when they sit toss the toy to reinforce the behavior.

As always, have fun together! You can find out more great information on any of these topics by contacting Katie Obringer via email at katie@forpawsandnoses.com or visiting www.nacsw.net

Woody Fund donations give our dogs a chance at life that were not possible in their prior homes whether it be medical care for surgeries, behavior training for fearful dogs or required immunizations necessary for the wellness of all dogs. Just ask Pluto, who thanks our donors and GRRMF for his knee repair and now is happy and healthy in his forever home. ENJOY LIFE WITH YOUR DOG by Barbara Anson

Man's best friend is more than a phrase. It describes a connection you have with your dog. There are many ways to build a bond with your dog whether you get a puppy or adopt an older dog. I have had many dogs that were happy to walk around the block and sleep next to me on the couch. Then there are those dogs that often end up in rescue. The high drive dogs. The ones that many owners don't know what to do with when confronted with all that energy. Tayla was our first dog that overwhelmed us with her drive and energy. She needed a job, but what? She started me on a road that I want to share with you, the world of dog sports. I only compete in AKC events or with organizations, such as Barn Hunt and North America Diving Dogs (NADD), but there are many other organizations out there to join. My dogs have titles in Obedience, Rally, Barn Hunt, Scent Work, Therapy Dog and Dock Diving. There is not enough room in this article for me to highlight all of the things you can do with your dogs, but here is a short list:

- Obedience • Canine Good Citizen • Therapy Dog Work • Rally • Agility • Flyball
- Dock Diving • Frisbee • Trick Dog • Tracking • Scent Work • Barn Hunt • Lure Coursing • FAST CAT

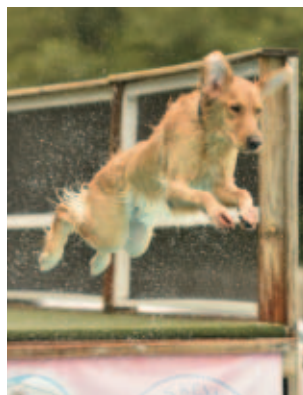

Some of these events are more challenging than others. Some take a commitment of time and effort on your part to train your dog - some don't. Take Tucker, for example, he is just under 2 years old (we adopted him at 15 months) and he has more energy than we can ever burn off. One month after we got him we wanted to see if he could swim. Yes, he swims like a fish! Lesson two, will he jump off a dock raised about 2 feet off the water if you toss his toy? Yes, he will! One month later we are competing in dock diving and having a ton of fun.

The moral of this story is there is a dog sport out there for anyone who is interested. Earn a title or just do it for fun, either way you are building a lifelong bond with your dog and meeting some great people along the way. Visit AKC.org to learn more.

#GIVING TUESDAY CAMPAIGN

#GivingTuesday is a global giving movement where millions of people have come together to support and champion the causes they believe in and the communities in which they live. Everyone knows about the two days around Thanksgiving where commercialism takes over and the deals abound – Black Friday and Cyber Monday. While getting a good deal seems satisfying in the moment, does it really make a difference in the long run?

#GivingTuesday is the perfect way to find new meaning during the holiday season. Golden Retriever Rescue of Mid-Florida is proud to announce our #GivingTuesday campaign for 2018! Stay tuned to our Facebook page and website for frequent updates on #GivingTuesday and how you can help our sweet goldens. Everyone can have an impact on #GivingTuesday!

Our Golden Angel Campaign

This time of year we look up at the stars and hope ...
because we depend on your holiday donations to fund our rescue effort.
Our dogs are blessed because so many of you are generous and care deeply about their needs.
Become a Golden Angel this holiday season by honoring a family member, golden, or a friend with a donation in their name. Access our online donation link at www.grrmf.org/2018-golden-angels/ or mail your donation using the form on the back page.

HEARTS OF GOLD TEAM

Recognizing the wonderful benefits of animal therapy in today's society, especially at disaster areas and scenes of horrific incidents, GRRMF is exploring different ways we can leverage our gentle paws ambassadors to comfort those in need. We are in the early organizational stages of forming a special team of handlers and their dogs to represent GRRMF. Our Hearts of Gold Team will consist of dogs who have friendly, easy-going personalities, stable temperaments and responsible handlers who can manage their dog in a safe and effective manner. We recommend a CGC certification be obtained until we have a handler training program in place. If you have an interest in learning more, or would like to become a member of our Hearts of Gold Team, please email us at info@grrmf.org and a volunteer will contact you.

5 STAR FOSTERS

by Kirsten Brown and Bambi Anderson-Ivers

Team Berrisford – Foster mom Jo Ann is truly a cherished member of our team. Recently she was called on to foster a bonded pair and without hesitation she accepted the challenge! Jo Ann has worked with a local trainer and has been able to use those skills with other foster dogs. Her sparkling personality and love for each new dog makes Jo Ann an essential piece of the foster team.

Team Poisson – Even though Foster mom Mary Ann Poisson leads a busy life she is always willing to take in one more precious golden that needs her special touch. Puppy? No problem. Elderly? Bring it! Special needs? Of course! Mary Ann gives each foster dog that comes into her home her full heart, tons of healing love and playtime with her own wonderful dog. Thank you, Mary Ann. Your heart of gold is magical.

ADORED BY ALL

The GRRMF family is heartbroken to hear of the passing of a very special volunteer, Don Ferguson, whose love and devotion to Golden Retrievers showed no boundaries. Through the years Don and his wife Renee supported GRRMF by fostering 17 dogs and adopting two special fur kids, Max and Ginger. Each foster adopted was an opportunity to save another golden. When a special needs foster required a raised dish at the proper height, he utilized his craftsman skills and began making wood food dish stands for each foster. Don was an active raffle ticket seller at the reunions and supplied our golden goods table with custom dog platforms and dog bone hangers for fundraising. We believe Don was met at the Rainbow Bridge by many wagging tails who he adored, especially his beloved boy Max.

Adoption Stories

King Nat

King Nat, now called Cooper, was adopted by Skip when Cooper's previous owners had to move. Since Skip's wife had recently passed away, Cooper's new role became that of "helper, companion, and friend." Besides keeping Skip company, Cooper has also become quite famous at Skip's New England resort. When guests call for reservations, they want to make sure that this is the resort "with the dog." Since moving to New England, Cooper has discovered the joy of snow and has learned several hand signals.

Austin Apollo

Austin, formerly known as Austin Apollo, came to GRRMF when his owner went to assisted living. He adores his forever family and makes sure they know how loved they are by never leaving their side - whether they're sleeping or in the shower! Austin has an exciting life that includes boating, swimming and playing with his sister Harrah. He rules the roost by letting his family know he wants a walk by grabbing his own leash off the counter! Despite Austin's occasional shoe chewing, of which he has expensive taste, he is very loved.

Chloe Madeira

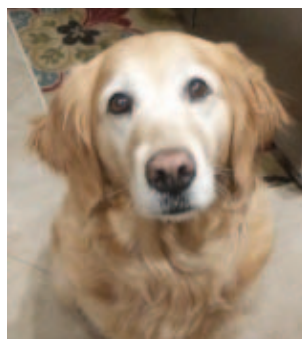

Chloe, formerly Chloe Madeira, came from a family who didn't have time to care for her. Her forever family is very patient with some of her fears, like loud noises or getting out of the car. She wakes them every morning by staring at them with a big smile and tail wag to start their day! Chloe gets to visit her second home in the mountains and loves to cuddle her "baby" which is a beloved Lambchop toy. Chloe's calm and sweet demeanor perfectly completes her family, including her Westie brother, Oliver.

Melanie Marilyn - now called Surrey

Melanie Marilyn, now called Surrey, was a stray who was fostered and then adopted by Eileen and John. On cool Sunday mornings, Surrey can be found walking around Lake Eola; on those hot Florida days, she prefers the beach. At home, Surrey skips across the wet grass to reach the garden, where she knows the geckos await. In the mornings, she enjoys flipping onto her back for belly rubs. She is very sociable, which makes her walks around the neighborhood to see friendly dogs and people a must.

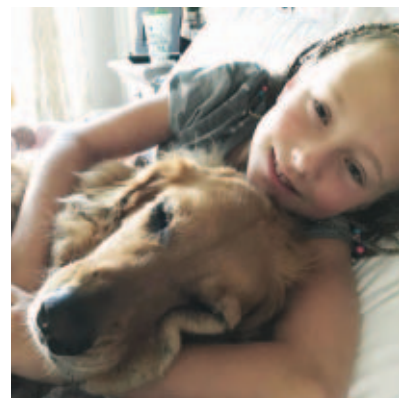

Happy Auburn

Happy Auburn came to GRRMF requiring a partial mastectomy and spay at eight years of age. "We helped her heal from her big surgery and were so excited to adopt her," reports Kimberly. "She has added warmth and love to our home and shows a motherly nature with our young daughter. Happy is very gentle with her fur sibling Rocko (a MinPin), and it's hilarious to watch them play because Rocko can run under her and she doesn't know where he went!"

Lily Agnes

Surrendered due to her allergy expenses, Lily now gets to go to work with Mom when it is time for her "special skin bath" and enjoys hanging out in the veterinary reception area to greet everyone. "Lily adores our children and will help us tuck them into bed each night," reports Christine. "Our son loves to curl up with Lily with his head laying on her and our 3-legged kitten absolutely LOVES playing with Lily's tail." She enjoys family outings on the boat and playtime in the back yard.
