

TALES OF GOLD

CHANGING COURSE written by adopter Mark D.

My new foster assignment was not a golden retriever like the others before, but a three-year-old black lab named King from Louisiana. He was severely underweight, heartworm positive, whipworm infested and had a mangy coat and a puffy face due to entropion of his lower eyelids. Afraid to leave a room and easily startled, King kept a close eye on my whereabouts at all times.

As the next three months passed, our routine was limited to walking to the ocean at the end of the block to sit and then heading back home for King to rest and continue to heal. Once he received his medical clearance, the days passed with no adoption match for King. The words of the lead veterinarian who performed King's entropion surgery kept running through my head "This is very rare to witness the love this dog has for you." I began to see what she and all my friends and neighbors had been telling me all along - "King really loves you." I realized that I couldn't imagine not having King in my life. All that guidance of not getting attached to a foster just went out the window. When I contacted my adoption coordinator, she was very supportive of my desire to adopt King and pleased to hear that I would continue as a foster home.

I joined GRRMF because I know life is better with a dog. Initially, I wasn't ready for the long-term commitment of dog ownership but knew that being a foster volunteer would be a great reward in itself. I especially remember when one of my fosters bonded with a special needs child during the family's adoption interview. At that moment, I had my motivation to foster forever and I now have this wonderful four-legged mentor to help more GRRMF rescues get ready for adoption.

WELCOME ABOARD by Terry Ann Tatro

What could be more fun than enjoying a beautiful boat ride on Lake Sumter? How about adding nine Hearts of Gold therapy pups with their handlers and family members! The outing on the Lake Sumter Lines' vessel was a well-deserved reward for these hard-working teams who provide comfort to their communities throughout the year. The Hearts of Gold pups and their handlers take their roles seriously. Whether visiting assisted-living and memory-care facilities, college campuses during exam week, corporate mental health events, or conventions such as the Juvenile Arthritis Foundation, these Hearts of Gold teams work hard to make their therapy visits seem effortless and full of laughter and love. As Hearts of Gold therapy member Toni notes, "People get excited to see our dogs. It makes everything less stressful for them."

Yet as this boat trip proves, there's a lot of fun to be had as well. Both before and after boarding, the pups and their handlers happily met and chatted with other people who happened to be strolling on the boardwalk. And during their time on the lake, the pups ate up the sights, smells, and breezes while their handlers laughed over shared experiences from throughout the year. As these handlers will attest, being part of the Hearts of Gold therapy team is absolutely rewarding, but it's also a source of real friendship.

What does it take to become part of this amazing Hearts of Gold therapy team? Dogs that are well-trained, even-tempered, and happy to help people, and handlers who are willing to learn how to teach their pups all the new commands needed as well as how to react positively in unfamiliar situations. The payoff? Watching these dogs bring joy wherever they go. As North Central coordinator Barbara points out, "The dogs are happiest when they're visiting people. This is something they love to do."

Hearts of Gold therapy teams were very busy in 2022 clocking 900 volunteer hours and attending 225 events throughout mid-Florida. Starting our 5th year, we are excited to introduce pet therapy at St. Petersburg Hospital for staff and patients. For more information about the Hearts of Gold therapy program, visit our website at www.grrmf.org/grrmf-hearts-of-gold-therapy-team.

YEAR IN REVIEW by Carol Forsberg

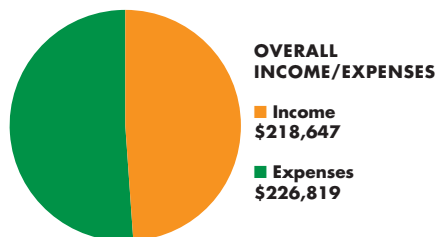

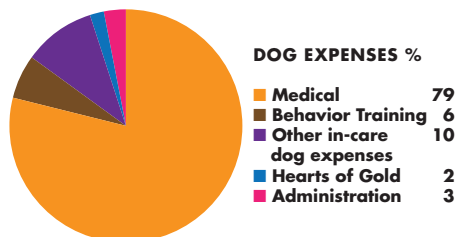

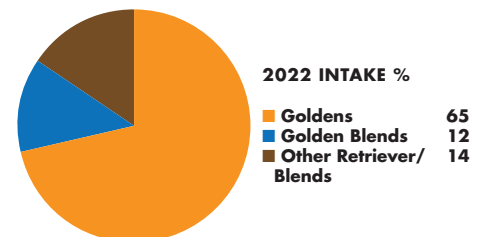

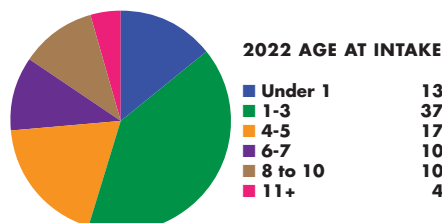

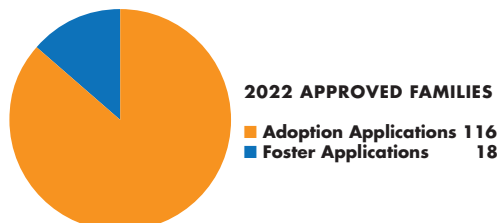

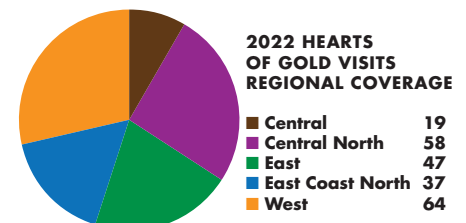

2022 was another year with so much joy balancing so many challenges as we continue to support the recovery of humans and their dogs in our mid-Florida communities. The pandemic, mental health, continuing economic struggles and ever changing needs of our dogs and volunteers expand our growth with our community outreach programs of GRRMF Rescue and GRRMF Hearts of Gold. We are thankful that each time we asked for help, our dedicated volunteers and supporters stepped up. GRRMF would not be who we are without you. Each one of you made a life-changing difference for a 2022 dog in need. Words cannot express our gratitude. The faces of our dogs say it all.

2022 Key Milestones

- 91 dogs arrived in our program receiving rehabilitation care to prepare them for their family match and adoption day!
- 9 dogs continued to receive care in our Sanctuary program. Our special GRRMF foster forever families make every day count, showering their foster dog with love and GRRMF providing necessary special care based on the dog's needs.
- Our Hearts of Gold therapy dog team continues to expand both in number of teams and areas of coverage. Our rescue volunteers and their dogs' passion for therapy work received recognition from the AKC through our approval of becoming an AKC Recognized Certifying Therapy Dog Organization.
- Our annual fundraiser during GivingTuesday was amazing! Your generosity achieved our goal and beyond receiving over $65,000 in donations to sustain our mission.

2023 Trends and Plans

- The year ending trend of increased intake of pups under one year needing the basics in puppy manners and confidence building continues into the early months of 2023. We are keeping our foster families and trainers busy with building the foundation for these special fur kids.
- Support additional goldens in need in mid-Florida and in the US where other golden rescues may be at or exceeding capacity. Expand our interstate transport process with additional trusted partners.
- Enhance our core foster tools and training program to further empower these precious families to provide daily safe care with comfort for every dog in our program.
- Continue our focus of community outreach Hearts of Gold growth geographically and increase our team size and locations we visit.
- Rebuild our community outreach "Friendraising" teams starting in the fall of 2023 in The Villages and Central Florida.
- Pursue recruitment of additional volunteer talent in latest technology and innovation to further our growth and community support in the next 3-5 years

Adoption Stories

NOVA

No sooner had Nova entered her adoptive home than she claimed the living room couch as her bed. Next, she claimed her family's hearts by tearing around the hot tub in their backyard and leaping in, forgetting how much she hates water. Despite her shy and serious demeanor, she does have her silly side. She especially enjoys chasing her parents from room to room, lying on her side and raising only her hind leg to expose her belly for belly rubs, and making herself comfortable on the couch by rearranging the blankets and pillows before contorting her body around them.

COCONUT

Her family had decided to name their next female Coconut one week before adopting a golden already called Coconut. Sassy and silly, she LIVES to swim in the pool, diving into the water like a pro and racing her parents to the finish line. Obsessed with toys, she always carries a stuffed animal in her mouth and even carries one outside when she potties. As cuddly as she is cheerful, Coconut is happiest when curled up cozily on the couch with her parents and is known to gently tap their faces or hands should they dare to stop petting her!

BOWIE

Bowie (formerly Missy) never misses a chance to make her parents smile. Blessed with the sweetest nature tinged with just enough sass, and famous for being their play instigator, she loves finding sticks for games of keep away and, on occasion, fetch. She's also the family's alarm clock, informing them when it's time for breakfast, a walk, dinner, and bed. Particularly fond of food, even as she works to lose weight, she shows her appreciation for each meal by delicately BELCHING! But her mom's favorite Bowie trait is her "gator noise" – a little grunt she makes when she's blissfully happy.

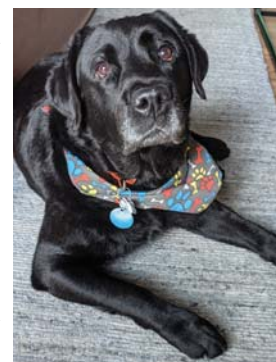

BEE

Bee (formerly Laura) went from being her veterinarian's patient to being the family's foster dog with medical needs to being their forever love. Effortlessly affectionate and adorably entertaining, she enjoys playing with Frisbees, usually carries two tennis balls in her mouth, and is working on three. Famous for once trying to cuddle the plastic cat litter scoop, she's equally famous for stealing socks and distributing them throughout the house. She politely insists on deferring her dinner until her family's seated at the table, eating theirs and woofs first dibs on her green velvet chair by the fireplace in winter.

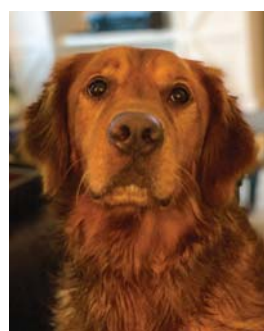

COOPER

Large both in size and love when he was adopted, Cooper genially greeted his mom with hugs and ear nibbles, then cheerfully carved his name on his family's hearts. The perfect playmate for his golden brother Benson, he shed 30 pounds of excess weight and emerged slim, re-energized and with spirit to spare. Famous for having the best butt wiggle when he wags his tail, he's very expressive, even when he's sleeping, enjoys tossing pillows off the couch and snuggling under blankets, walking through the woods, playing tug-o-war and fetch, but unlike most goldens, dislikes getting into the water.

CHARLIE

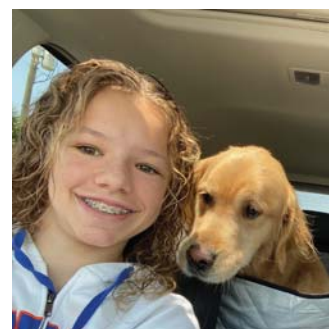

Cheerful and charming, Charlie is the cutest of clowns, bouncing merrily through life, ears perked and eyebrows in motion, earning him the nickname Dug from the Disney film "Up." Sweetly social, and happiest being part of his family's "pack," he loves snuggling and cuddling with them on movie and TV nights indoors as much as he loves engaging in every conceivable activity with them outdoors. But what he especially enjoys is visiting the dog park, where he goes from person to person, getting plenty of pets while his parent's joke, he's not there for the dogs, he's there for the people!

VOLUNTEER SPOTLIGHT: by Nomi Berger

GRRMF volunteers come in all ages and with diversified interests. Meet four of our young volunteers who support our rescue organization behind the scenes.

Zelda

To say that Zelda is zealous about all things dogs would be putting it mildly! Because her family faithfully fosters some of our rescues, Zelda happily lends a hand by taking part in the feeding, walking and caring for them in general. Volunteering for GRRMF because she not only loves animals but cherishes the uniquely satisfying experience of working with dogs, she's also acutely aware of the fact that the more animals fostered today means the more animals adopted tomorrow. And what could paws-ibly be more rewarding than seeing one of the deserving dogs you've helped foster find forever love?

Emme

Emme is exuberant about volunteering for GRRMF. Since her family fosters dogs, she enjoys welcoming them and ensuring they feel safe, while loving them as if they were her own. Besides walking and playing with them, she also feeds and trains them. And because the family's last foster dog had a skin allergy that required regular baths using a special shampoo, she eagerly assumed that responsibility as well. While Emme's ultimate goal is to become a veterinarian, for now she's elated to be helping her family's fosters find loving homes, seeing them happily settled and most deservedly adored.

Team Logan and Brennan

Logan and Brennan are an integral part of the MP4 videos their family creates and post to the GRRMF Hearts of Gold YouTube channel. From sorting through photos to adding effects and appropriate quotes, they help capture the joy our therapy teams bring to those they visit. Passionate about their golden Wrigley and all animals, both boys are elated that GRRMF's flexible deadlines allow them to work on their community service hours without compromising their school and sports schedules. Truly a win-win for this dedicated duo and us! We derive the same sweet satisfaction from these remarkable YouTube videos and the visible impact they have.

BETTY WYATT TRIBUTE

We were saddened to hear about the loss of one of our rescue pioneers and mentor to so many of our volunteers still with our rescue today. Betty Wyatt's passion for goldens extended across the rescue through so many important roles she supported from intake, newsletter editor, foster mom and adoption matchmaker. Our sincere condolences extend to her immediate family and all in her GRRMF family who continue her legacy of golden love and care.

DOG SPORTS

When Barbara and Rick adopted Tucker, he was a 15-month-old bundle of playful energy. They knew he needed an outlet and signed Tucker up for canine sports. Today, Tucker is a dock diving champ and having the time of his life! Barbara explains, "It's a great way to help active dogs burn off energy, keep them stimulated, and the dogs love it. So instead of being a soccer mom, I'm a dock diving mom!"

Besides dock diving, there is Frisbee catching, barn hunts, speed races and agility courses, as well as obedience and tracking sports. In Fast Cat, dogs are timed to see how fast they can run a 100-yard dash chasing a lure. AKC Rally is a teamwork event where you and your dog navigate a course together. In Barn Hunt, dogs must find the hidden vermin. Through UpDog, owners and dogs can have a great time catching discs in the air. No matter which sport you choose, each organization's top priority is offering a safe and fun environment for both you and your dog. Since some sports require more training than others and are more taxing for owners, Barbara recommends starting off by taking a class or two to see if it's a fit for you both. Visit the websites listed below for more information and trade in that soccer ball for a flying Frisbee!
